

Topic : Children's learn as they grow up.

Mrs. Rajashri Tushar Bansode
(Pre-Primary English Medium)

❖ Introduction :

Children's Development and Learning Children's development and learning are interconnected. As they grow, they understand and learn from the world around them. This is a process that begins at birth and continues throughout their lives. Children's learning isn't limited to books; they also learn a great deal from their play, interactions, and experiences. In this article, I have observed children and described and explained their development to their parents.

❖ Purpose of choosing this topic

Children learn as they grow. This subject was chosen because it is very important for their future. Every parent feels that if their child goes to school, they should know everything. But parents don't understand that children's development happens gradually. Example: Look at the utensils. That utensil is not made just like that. We should see the hard work of the person who makes it. We should also see how much time it takes.

❖ Example / Case Study – Over Expectation of parents from children's. (Nursery Students)

❖ Situation :

The parents expectation from child is very high regarding age of child. Some parents worry about their child future. They give mobile phones because they are annoying. Some parents did not encourage their child when they do work.

❖ Efforts Taken : Observed the children, noted their changes, and communicated with their parents.

❖ Success :

Children's mobile addiction decreased. Children learned to eat with their hands. Children's stage fright decreased. Children's self-confidence increased. Children's work began to be done skillfully. After that discussion parents also accepted that we want to give time for child for his/her mental, physical, social, and educational.

❖ Conclusion : This suggests that if we give children a little time, they learn everything on their own and change. Therefore, we should be patient and observe them closely to see how they change.

❖ Suggestions for the Future :

From this survey, we can suggest that we should be patient. Children's mental, physical, social, and educational development will occur gradually. We should also understand their children's minds and act accordingly.
